About AI VidSummary

AI VidSummary is an AI-powered learning platform that transforms YouTube videos into instant, actionable summaries. In a world where information overload is the norm, AI VidSummary helps users extract the knowledge they need in seconds rather than hours.

The platform offers 12 customizable summary templates—from general overviews to technical code extraction—AI-powered chat for asking follow-up questions about video content, and native support for 111 languages. Unlike translation services, AI VidSummary generates summaries directly in the user's chosen language for natural, accurate output.

Available as a full-featured web application and browser extensions for Chrome and Firefox, AI VidSummary serves students preparing for exams, professionals staying current in their industries, and lifelong learners pursuing personal growth. The platform features a generous free tier because the company believes learning should be accessible to everyone.

AI VidSummary was founded by Piyush Agarwal, a digital marketing professional who built the product using AI-assisted development to solve his own learning challenges. The company is operated by WIN MASSIVE IMPACT PVT LTD, headquartered in Kolkata, India, and is part of the AI Freedom Club platform.
